

PEACE TALK, BUT NO BODIES

WOLFE, ONE OF DEMOCRATS

Wolfe, one of the Democrats, said that the peace talk was only a device to keep the people from seeing the real situation. He said that the Democrats were not interested in peace, but in power.

Shaved Mr. Maxim 151 Times

Mr. Maxim, inventor of the famous Maxim Gun, is said to have shaved with an automatic blade 151 consecutive times.

An automatic blade is long-lived because you constantly renew its edge by expert sharpening.

You don't remove the blade to sharpen it. Straps, itself, automatically sharpens it.

Get one, I tell you. It does not give you a head-basher shave, but a back-scratcher.

Will you put it off and forget it, or will you get one this morning?

Regarding the new fabrics

in our Fall Suits for Men

There is a well-defined indication that this is to be a "rough goods" season.

We have accepted the indication in thorough earnest and months ago provided our creative organization with assortments of carefully chosen wools that present the most attractive of the new materials.

Among the rough goods diagonals are much in evidence—sturdy weaves that are well calculated to lend individuality to the garments fashioned from them.

The smoother fabrics and we show these also will be more in vogue with men whose conservatism does not take kindly to the dash of ultra style which appeals to the younger element.

THE JURY ACQUITS SKENE

NOT GUILTY OF RAISING BID FOR GOOD ROAD WORK.

The Jurors Stood 9 to 3 for Acquittal on First Ballot (Unanimous on Fifth Ballot) Jerome Makes Bitter Attack on O'Neil, the State's Chief Witness.

ALBANY, Sept. 8. A verdict of not guilty was brought in at 9 o'clock to-night by the jury which had been listening to evidence since a week ago Monday against former State Engineer Frederick Skene of Queens borough. Skene was indicted for grand larceny in cheating the State out of $30,000 through the raising of the bid of the Russell Contracting Company for constructing a good road in Nassau county.

The case went to the jury just before 5 o'clock this afternoon, and the next two hours were spent by the jurymen in eating supper. The first ballot stood 9 to 3 for acquittal, and so did the second and third ballots. The fourth ballot stood 10 to 2 for acquittal and then there was a unanimous agreement.

At 8:30 o'clock the Sheriff notified Justice Coman at the Hotel Ten Eyck that the jury had agreed, and at 9 o'clock Judge Coman had reached the court room and the jury was brought in, and the verdict announced. There was a demonstration of approval from Skene's friends and Mr. and Mrs. Skene were surrounded on all sides and congratulated.

There are sixteen other indictments in connection with alleged good roads frauds which were found at the same time as the indictment just tried back to work in the same district and it is expected that the extraordinary term of the Supreme court here has been holding will be adjourned to-morrow and that the other Skene indictments will take the usual course before the regular term of the Supreme court here, which convenes next month. Mr. Skene's present bail continuing.

Justice Coman in his charge to the jury pointed out that if the testimony of Charles H. O'Neil, Skene's confidential man, and the people's chief witness against Skene, was true, O'Neil himself was an accomplice and could be indicted for larceny as Skene had been.

William T. Jerome occupied the morning session of the court in summing up for Skene. He first recalled Skene for the purpose of testifying that he still owed his brother-in-law the $30,000 furnished Russell to take up the protested note which O'Neil had discounted, saying it was for Skene.

In reviewing the evidence for the jury Mr. Jerome pointed out that it was impossible to attempt to prove a case against Skene because O'Neil and Allen refused to be deposed as to dates concerning Skene's actions with Russell's bid and note.

"The only things in this case which we do not admit," said Mr. Jerome, "are that Skene got an extra bid and tally sheet from Allen and O'Neil for the purpose of raising the Russell bid and that he sent O'Neil to get the note from Russell and afterward to discount it at the Troy Bank."

"There is no evidence on these disputed points, except from the two informers, O'Neil and Allen, and you must judge between them and Skene who should be believed."

"Think of the brass of that man O'Neil, saying he has never been broke. The jury perhaps noticed the diamonds flashing from his tie and fingers. You may remember he never held a job very long. Contrast the manner of this man O'Neil with his rum-sodden face, and that of Skene. God created man in His own image. But He never pictured on man as O'Neil has, except as a danger signal to his fellow men. Which would you rather have your back to the dark?"

"O'Neil or Skene? I would have your back to O'Neil, now skulking back there in the farthest dark corner of the court room, and then decide whether you will try to meet the case of O'Neil or Skene."

Attorney-General O'Malley took up the afternoon session in closing for the people. Mr. O'Malley said that the jury should not be misled by family or other considerations if they believed Skene guilty.

"It is the duty of this jury," concluded the Attorney-General, "to revive public confidence in our public institutions. Citizens are frequent that the corporations control public officials or that they steal the public money. The people wonder and criticize what they call the present hysteria regarding public affairs and yet can you wonder that the insurgents are increasing daily? It is for this jury to meet this situation in the highest public sense."

Dennis Monahan, who was summoned from the Adirondacks by Mr. Jerome to corroborate Mr. Lewis's testimony and disprove the testimony of Charles H. O'Neil regarding the cashing of the Beck with check for $6,000, reached Albany to-day and his testimony was taken by Justice Le Boeuf, who is to decide to-morrow whether a warrant is to issue for his arrest.

When a Baby—Hair All Came Out—Always Scratching—Mother Got Cuticura and He was Cured After 3 Years of Disease.

"My son was about four months old when he was taken with dreadful eczema. I had four different doctors but they could not help him. The hair all came out and his face was totally covered. His eyes were shut and we thought he would go blind. His mother and I were also affected. He was always scratching; I had to keep his little hands from scratching his face. I had to keep his little hands from scratching his face. I had to keep his little hands from scratching his face."

"But I got some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and in a week or ten days I could see the eruption drying up and before long he was cured, after about three years of the terrible disease. Now he is nineteen years old and has not a sign of the old trouble. You see I learned to save three-quarters of a doctor's bill by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I will recommend either to any one and advise them to use them and receive a safe, speedy cure. Mrs. Katherine McKim, Deck St., Royaltown, Pa., Feb. 21, 1910."
